Forecast for Tuesday 18 Jan 2022

Weather: A dry, cold and frosty start with fog patches. These will be slow to clear, with some persisting into the afternoon. Away from areas of fog, long sunny spells are expected through the morning. Some thin cloud will spread east during the afternoon and evening, perhaps thickening across western hills by midnight, but staying dry.

Chance of cloud free mountain/hill tops above 600m: 100% decreasing to 80% during the evening. Fog obscuring views at low levels during the morning, and perhaps the odd spot into the afternoon.

Visibility: Very poor at first in any fog, otherwise excellent. Visibility falling to very good to moderate with as cloud thickens late in the day. Some scattered cloud thickening above 700m during the evening.
